Guwaadzi Hauba (Greetings Everyone),

Acoma Pueblo “Sky City”, the physical and spiritual homeland to the Acoma people, sits atop a sandstone mesa 370 feet above the desert floor. With the unique historical distinction as the oldest continuously inhabited community in North America, dating back to as early as 1100 A.D., Acoma continues to unfold its living history to a time far beyond our imagination—A time of creation and emergence into this world. The Pueblo of Acoma is the 28th National Trust Historic Site designated by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, the first Native American site to be designated.

Acoma Pueblo “Sky City”, for many years, has been a site of interest for people locally, nationally and internationally. This is primarily due to the rich culture, tradition, and history that has been passed on for many years and is very well alive to this day. Before you even arrive to the pueblo, you can already experience the majestic beauty of the scenery and rock formations, as you drive to “Sky City”.

The Sky City Cultural Center & Haak’u Museum is the welcome center for all our guests and is located at the base of the mesa. The center showcases the art and lifestyle of the Acoma people, with the unique architectural structure of the building. Our guests are given the opportunity to visit two separate exhibits in our Haak’u Museum, visit and purchase keepsakes and gift items from the Gaits’i (Beautiful) Gift Shop, and enjoy a tasty meal native to Acoma from the Yaak’a (Corn) Café.

In New Mexico, we are pleased to announce the release of a TV segment featuring the Sky City Cultural Center & Haak’u Museum and Acoma Pueblo “Sky City”, as the Official Best Cultural Attraction in New Mexico for 2013. (Please see attachment for additional information).

In 2014, Acoma Pueblo received TOP HONORS as being voted the BEST NATIVE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE in the USA. Click on to the link below to read more on this awesome recognition.

Acoma Pueblo voted Best Native American Experience!

We encourage you to take time to come out to be our guest and learn, enjoy, and absorb the beauty and living history of Acoma Pueblo “Sky City”.
