STATE-TRIBAL COLLABORATION ACT 2022 AGENCY REPORT

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

New Mexico Department of Agriculture (NMDA) looks forward to continuing to work with its tribal partners through formal solicitations of services as well as through increased outreach efforts.

II. AGENCY OVERVIEW AND BACKGROUND

A. Mission Statement

NMDA promotes a fair marketplace, food protection, marketing, and economic development; supports the beneficial use and conservation of natural resources; and works cooperatively with the public and private sectors.

B. Agency Overview

New Mexico's food and agriculture industry continues to be an economic driver across the state and is one of the most diverse in the nation. As such, NMDA is responsible for a broad variety of laws, regulations, and programs that protect the consumer, enhance food safety, and provide unique and creative marketing programs to assist New Mexico's producers and processors (Table 1). NMDA is under the New Mexico State University (NMSU) Board of Regents. NMDA serves on the NMSU President's Cabinet, Vice President's Council, and Administrative Council.

Additionally, the Director of NMDA serves as the Secretary of Agriculture on the Governor's Cabinet. The Director/Secretary is the agriculture industry's official representative to the state and federal government. This unique role as a Cabinet-level agency and member of the NMSU community allows NMDA to combine regulatory functions with research and extension initiatives with colleges across the university.

For transparency and accountability to its constituents, NMDA uses performance-based budgeting within the NMSU system, publishes a biennial report, and sends weekly highlights to the Governor's office. Through approaches that use the latest science, technology, and economic strategies, NMDA advocates and promotes New Mexico's agricultural industries. NMDA collaborates with over fifty-five state and national boards, commissions, and organizations. This includes providing technical assistance, finalizing marketing and promotion assistance, and providing regulatory oversight and service.

C. Additional Tribal Collaboration/Consultation Policy

None

Table 1. NMDA's division/industry programs and their primary areas of responsibilities

DIVISION/PROGRAMS	PRIMARY AREAS OF RESPONSIBILITIES
Agricultural and Environmental Services (AES) Division	Inspections, permits, licensing, surveys, and consumer protection services related to pesticides, exports of raw agricultural products, THC compliance in hemp, and plant pests.
Agricultural Programs and Resources (APR) Division	Analytical services provided to stakeholders regarding state and federal environmental regulations and natural resource issues.
Agricultural and Production Services (APS) Division	Inspections, licenses, and consumer protection services related to dairy; feed, seed, and fertilizer; and produce. Advise and administer programs related to agricultural biosecurity.
Laboratory Division	Analysis services related to petroleum; metrology; feed, seed, and fertilizer; and pesticides.
Marketing and Development (MD) Division	Development of national and international marketing programs for state agricultural businesses, organic certification program, and fruit and vegetable inspections.
Standards and Consumer Services (SCS) Division	Inspections, permits, and consumer protection services related to weights and measures, petroleum, and other consumer items.
Veterinary Diagnostic Services (VDS) Division	Diagnostic services related to livestock, domestic animals, and wildlife.
Industry and Agency Programs	Liaison services between agricultural industries and state agencies.
Legislative and Governmental Affairs	Provide support for agricultural-related legislation.

III. AGENCY EFFORTS TO IMPLEMENT POLICY (11-18-4.C (1)(3))

- A. NMDA continued the outreach initiative between NMDA and all New Mexico tribes, pueblos, and nations. The Tribal Liaison actively participated in Tribal Liaison meetings coordinated by New Mexico Indian Affairs Department (IAD).
- B. NMDA provided tribes and pueblos with contact information linking them to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) disaster assistance and recovery programs.
- C. The Director/Secretary and Deputy Director/Secretary participated in the annual tribal summit, which provided an opportunity to interact with our tribal partners while providing education on services and opportunities available through NMDA.

- D. NMDA's AES Division continued to address tribal members' questions regarding pesticide-related testing, certification, and licensing procedures with EPA.
- E. The NMDA/USDA cooperative feral hog eradication team continued interaction with the Mescalero Apache Tribe.
- F. NMDA's MD Division maintains a longstanding relationship with Navajo Agricultural Products Industry (NAPI), continually working with their leadership to develop new markets while also enhancing existing ones. This past year the division continued efforts to collaborate with NAPI's staff in the development of their international and domestic marketing programs through participation in various marketing events and trade activities; most recently at the SIAL Americas Trade Show in Las Vegas, NV. In conjunction, NAPI participated in a WUSATA Global Buyer mission consisting of B2B meetings with buyers from Mexico, China, and Korea. NAPI also participated in a WUSATA Export Readiness Training. Staff recently provided green chile roasting training at NAPI in preparation for their upcoming chile harvest. MD also continued to fund and support two Specialty Crop Block Grant Program projects related to educating Native American farmers and consumers on growing and incorporating specialty crops into their diets (food access).
- G. NMDA's SCS Division conducts inspections by request of tribal governments.
- H. NMDA's SCS Division has a working Letter of Understanding that gives NMDA a permit to access Kewa Pueblo (formerly Santo Domingo Pueblo) lands and to inspect Pueblo Gas, Inc.'s fuel and fuel dispensers.
- I. NMDA's SCS Division has a working understanding that gives NMDA permission to inspect retail businesses located on the Isleta Pueblo.
- J. NMDA's VDS Division has a longstanding working relationship with veterinarians from the Navajo Nation. VDS continues to collaborate with numerous tribal entities on the diagnosis of diseases that affect livestock, pets, and wildlife.
- K. NMDA's APS Division has collaborated with the New Mexico Emergency Operations Center (EOC) to provide emergency preparedness and emergency response assistance support to tribes and pueblos. Through NMDA's role as the Emergency Support Function (ESF) #11 coordinating entity, NMDA works with numerous entities including local, state, and federal agencies as well as non-governmental organizations to address situations ranging from food safety to natural hazard mitigation.
- L. The 2019 Healthy Soil Act states the purpose of the Healthy Soil Program (HSP) is "to promote and support farming and ranching systems and other forms of land management that increase soil organic matter, aggregate stability, microbiology and water retention to improve the health, yield and profitability of the soils of the state." The legislation directs NMDA to administer the HSP "with support and advice" from the New Mexico Soil and Water Conservation Commission. The Healthy Soil Act established that only "Eligible Entities" could receive grant funds, defining eligible entities as "local governmental [agencies] with proven land management capacity," including:
- Nations, tribes, and pueblos
  - Land grants

- Acequias
- Soil and water conservation districts
- NMSU's Cooperative Extension Service

Because there are two applicant types that can apply for Healthy Soil Program funding – 1) Eligible Entities like those named above, as well as 2) Individual Applicants (individuals, businesses, and nonprofits engaged in farming, ranching, or other forms of land management) – NMDA bifurcated its outreach efforts in FY22 in order to reach each applicant type with targeted information.

For all Eligible Entities, the agency hosted two outreach events in FY22: one webinar in January to encourage Eligible Entities to begin contemplating their soil health projects, and another webinar in March when NMDA opened the application process and showed Eligible Entities how to apply. NMDA hosted similar but separate webinars for Individual Applicants during the same timeframes. All webinars were hosted in preparation for the FY23 funding cycle.

NMDA continues to welcome indigenous perspectives as the program develops, particularly when grant applications are evaluated. NMDA's panel of application reviewers includes a tribal liaison from a sister agency.

Beyond NMDA-hosted events to promote the Healthy Soil Program, staff extended additional outreach to potential applicants via various nonprofit organizations, the Southwest Drought Learning Network, and the state's Forest & Watershed Health Coordinating Group, among whose many members are several pueblos. Program co-leads remain engaged with tribal liaisons at NMDA, State Forestry Division, and Natural Resources Conservation Service—New Mexico.
